- 5. The former MAA cantonment located about 3 km east of the city, on the south side of the road to Euchlhausen, was razed as early as 1946.
- 6. Both sources stated that a heavy explosion occurred in 1948 in an armunition depot located near the city, shortly after trains with artillery amounition had been unloaded there. The location of this depot or the installation itself could not be described.
- 7. A Militia office was located in a former apartment house, the south side of which fronted on Mindenburgstrasse and its cast side on ul Micklewicza, formerly Trusostrasse. Sentries in front of the building carried rifles and wore blue-gray uniforms. One Hellmann was in charge of the office.

 Other Militia agencies were in Elbing.
- 8. The Mabing UB (Security Police) headquarters was located in the former home for deaf-mutes on the southeast side of Koenigsbergerstrasse, about 300 meters southwest of the barracks installations. UB offices and billets were located there. Another UE agency was in a former apartment house, the south side of which fronted on Al. Grundwaldzka, formerly Tannenbergeliee, and its east side on the street leading to the railroad station.
- 9. Soviet military vehicles were occasionally observed in Elbing by both sources prior to the summer of 1019. The vehicles belonged to a Soviet Air Force unit stationed near the airfield. They were driven by air force troops. No troops or vehicles of the Soviet Army were observed in the streets of Albing after 1916.

10. A political prison was located at 105 Red Trmy Street, Stargard (0 5h/2 85), and has been used since 19h5 for the detention of German and Polish political prisoners. Prior to Number 19h9, the guards were brown uniforms like those of Polish troops. After that time, they were dark green uniforms with silver-bordered light green collar patches and dark green service caps with light green piping and the Polish eagle emblem. (h)

- (2) The red and blue cap ribbons indicate Polish Army and KBW (Internal Security) units, respectively. The meaning of the yellow ribbons has not been determined.
- (3) The observation of tanks in Elbing can be considered as confirmation of the 10th Tank Regt which was last identified there in the summer of 1019. See . The first tank described probably was a T-3h tank, although the muzzle brake does not answer its description. The second tank presumably was a JS-3 model whose prominent recognition feature is the triangular nose. JS-3 tanks were previously observed with the Polish Army.
- (h) No previous information on uniforms of this type has been received from Poland.
